EAST MOLINE – Jan. 26, 2010 – Pat Versluis, a Moline resident and assistant principal at Glenview Middle School, claimed a $250 prize for himself, plus another $250 to donate to the Glenview Middle School Peacebuilders. The money comes from The Horace Mann Companies as part of its "Educators Run Away with 65K" Sweepstakes.

Horace Mann insurance agent Steve Schrock presented the award to Versluis on Monday at the East Moline school.

The "Educators Run Away with 65K" Sweepstakes started Jan. 6 and will run until April 20, 2010. Open to educators and other school employees across most of the United States, the sweepstakes will award a total of $65,000 in prizes and donations. The award amounts will range from a grand prize and donation of $20,000, a first place prize/donation of $9,000, and numerous $1,000 and $500 awards. Half of the total award amount will be given to the prizewinner, with the other half donated in the winner's name to one or more not-for-profit, education-related organizations.

To enter, an educator/school employee should request an entry code from a Horace Mann agent or complete a postcard as described in the official rules at www.horacemann.com. The official rules contain additional terms and conditions.
